Announcing Special Promotional Pricing on Engage Call Recording/Speech Analytics Bundles & a Special Limited Time Offer for Existing Customers

1+1 = Much More

Call recording and speech analytics complement each other. If you get one, you should get the other. Adding Engage Analyze speech analytics to Engage Record provides new insight to customer interaction and information contained in your recorded calls.

Always Up to Date

There's no need for quickly outdated dictionaries with their constant, expensive maintenance either. That's because Engage Analyze understands speech, in its smallest, most fundamental elements. New competitors, product names, slang, and other dynamically changing terms are quickly and accurately identified. They aren't Greek to Engage Analyze.

Now, purchase Engage Analyze together with Engage Record and get special bundled pricing on the pair*.

Existing Engage Record users can add Engage Analyze to their systems and get the same special price on Analyze until April 30, 2010.

Ask your authorized Engage Suite reseller or TelStrat about Engage bundles.

Best Performance

Where the competition allows you to review only a small percentage of calls, the speed and power of Engage Analyze's phonetic technology equips you to unlock the critical business knowledge and strategic intelligence contained in 100% of your call volume. Easily. Affordably.

Better Together

Recording and analytics combined give you the means to fully understand your customers and your marketplace. And you'll do so with the industry's most cost effective, easiest-to-use products. So, if you're getting Engage Record, save by getting Engage Analyze at the same time. One just completes the other. They'll help you really know your business and optimize your operation.
